

HOUSE DEADLOCK SHOWING SIGNS OF SETTLEMENT

Longworth and Insurgents Finally Reach Agreement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—An armistice under which the sixty-eighth congress may be organized tomorrow was agreed upon tonight by leaders of the Republican insurgent and regular organizations in the house.

Announcement of the agreement came late tonight after a conference between Representative Longworth of Ohio, the organization leader, and Representative Nelson of Wisconsin.

Under this agreement, Gillett of Massachusetts, whose re-election as speaker has been blocked for two days by the insurgents, is to return to office. This would clear the way for President Coolidge to deliver his first annual message to congress on Thursday.

The way for the conference was paved by a statement issued late today by Mr. Longworth after the house had had another four rounds of futile balloting. Mr. Longworth announced that after due time, and within a month the house would be given full opportunity to adopt such rules governing its procedure as "the majority may desire."

The insurgents from the first of the fight had stated that all they wanted was this opportunity for the house to act.

There still remained a difference between the two groups, however. Mr. Longworth proposed a delay in action until after the rules committee could consider various suggestions for changes from the members, whereas the insurgents insisted upon amendments by the house before the adoption of any rules. This difference was ironed out tonight in the more than an hour of discussion. Mr. Longworth agreeing that the insurgents would have freedom of action in offering amendments to any and all of the rules as proposed by the rules committee.

It was made clear on behalf of the insurgents that the agreement reached tonight was nothing more than a truce under which the house might organize and thus place the next congress in position to proceed to business. The insurgents retain their full rights to contest not only for their modifications of the rules, but for the legislation which they have announced formally they propose to sponsor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The house staged four more rounds of balloting today without electing a speaker, but post-session negotiations between organization and insurgent Republicans hinted at a possible break tomorrow. Meantime the sixty-eighth congress remains motionless and unorganized. It can do no business and President Coolidge still awaits notification that it is ready to receive his first annual message.

In the voting today there was no wavering by insurgents, regulars or Democrats. The last ballot stood:

Garrett—198.
Gillett—197.
Cooper—17.
Madden—5.

The first ballot yesterday showed:

Gillett—198.
Garrett—195.
Cooper—17.
Madden—5.

While the house continued its fight over the speakership the senate could only twiddle its thumbs. It met at noon, heard the invocation and adjourned. The session lasted three minutes.

To Appoint Insurgents

The first signs of armistice negotiations between Republican regulars and insurgents in the house came in a statement issued by Representative Longworth of Ohio, the majority leader immediately after adjournment. He made the declaration that "the house will have complete opportunity to adopt such rules as the majority may desire."

The demand of the insurgents has been that the house have this opportunity.

After this statement had been published, leader of the Progressive bloc announced that they had arranged for a conference with Mr. Longworth tonight to discuss the whole situation. They said they would not comment on this statement at least until after any possible ambiguities have been removed.

It may be said, however, that the outlook is hopeful," they added.

A statement on the rules situation also was issued on behalf of the Democrats.

Definite Proposals

Representative Garrett of Tennessee, their leader, declared that when the time came for consideration of the rules committee's report, he would propose that the time be taken for the consideration of the rules committee's report.

FORMER FOLLIES GIRL SETTLES DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST MILLIONAIRE

Case Brought on Breach of Promise Grounds Adjusted

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—William J. Jackson, former secretary of the Ajax Rubber company, was indicted late today charged with the theft of 25,000 shares of stock in the company, valued at $175,000. Police of San Antonio, Texas, have been asked to arrest him.

Theft of the stock, for which other indictments also are being sought, was discovered today when 5,000 shares, bearing the forged signatures of two company officials, were presented for transfer to a Wall street firm. The indictment charges that Jackson sent the 5,000 shares from San Antonio to the office of Simmons & Co., brokers, to negotiate a loan.

Jackson was secretary of the company until last August when he resigned because of friction with other officials. It was charged that soon after he left the company it was learned that a book of shares of the company had been stolen, but the theft was not made public until today.

When Simmons & Co., received the shares from San Antonio they took them to the Central Union Trust company, the transfer agent. There it was discovered that the signature "E. W. Berry" on behalf of the transfer agent, apparently was a forgery. An investigation developed that while no certificates of stock of the Ajax Rubber company, which had been regularly registered contained numbers above 14,000, the lowest number of the stock certificates sent from San Antonio was 13,140.

Officers of the company noticed that not only the signature of the transfer agent but also signatures of officers of the company were forged.

What has become of the other 20,000 shares that were stolen is not known but it is believed some of them may have been deposited with other banks as collateral for loans.

COOLIDGE ENDORSED BY SOUTH DAKOTA IN REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

Ford Beaten by McAdoo for the Democratic Nomination

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 4. (A.P.)—President Calvin Coolidge tonight was given the majority nomination for the presidential primary by the South Dakota proposal convention, winning over Senator Hiram Johnson of California by a vote of 50,379 to 27,340. Later, on a rising vote, the endorsement was made unanimous for Coolidge. Coolidge and Johnson were the only names before the convention.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, was unanimously endorsed for vice president. A tumult of applause and prolonged cheering greeted the announcement of the vote on the presidential poll.

Governor William H. McMaster won the major senatorial endorsement by a vote of 40,207 against 37,827 for Senator Thomas Sterling, incumbent.

Prior to the vote the Republican convention had approved a platform plank endorsing Governor McMaster's state administration and approving his gasoline price war.

Lieutenant Governor Carl Gunderson received the majority Republican nomination for governor by a vote of 62,264 over Nicholas E. Knight of Hamilton county, who obtained 18,195 votes.

Charles A. Christopherson was renominated for Republican congressman from the district and Royal C. Johnson was renominated for congressman from the second district.

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, received the Democratic presidential endorsement by a vote of 39,018 against 5,972 for Henry Ford. Ford and McAdoo were the only candidates placed in nomination.

OKLAHOMA ELECTION UPHOLD BY COURT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 4.—The voters of Oklahoma were within their rights when they discarded former Governor J. C. Walton's mandate calling off the election and went to the polls on October 2, the state supreme court held today when it ruled in effect that the election was legal. The election in which was passed overwhelmingly a constitutional amendment empowering the state legislature to meet at its own call for impeachment proceedings climaxed the spectacular trend of events in Oklahoma which ended in Walton's impeachment and removal from office.

REPARATION COMMISSION HAS ROUTINE MEETING

PARIS, Dec. 4. (A.P.)—The reparation commission discussed only routine matters at its meeting this afternoon leaving in abeyance further action with regard to organization of the proposed committees to investigate Germany's resources.

GERMANY'S NEW CABINET BEGINS WITH ASSURANCE

Socialists Support the New Chancellor and Government

BERLIN, Dec. 4. (A.P.)—One of the many obstacles to the government's proposed authorization law, was removed this evening when the Socialists from whom chief opposition was expected in the reichstag, resolved, after a long party debate not to obstruct the bill, which would empower the reich government to carry out such financial economic and social measures as it deems essential and urgent. The vote was 74 to 55, but it carried with it the provisions that approval of the reichstag's stand in committee must be secured before hand. The reichstag had a large attendance today on the occasion of the initial appearance before it of Wilhelm Marx, the new chancellor and his cabinet. During the chancellor's address he received only a few interruptions from the opposition.

Altogether the reception of the new government was more auspicious than had been forecast in some quarters.

In introducing his government the chancellor said it was neither against the right nor the left, but that it was against all who wished to rob the German people of what remained to it, namely, the unity of the nation. In the domain finance the chancellor declared the government faced a task unparalleled in the history of the world and the German people must realize that if it was not to sink into a hopeless whirlpool of destruction the house had come to make the greatest sacrifices. It must be understood that the financial problem for Germany was a question of to be or not to be.

Announcement was made by the chancellor that for the present, the government would be unable to dispense with the military state of emergency.

After the chancellor's address the house quietly adjourned.

COOLIDGE'S MESSAGE MAY BE PRESERVED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Besides having his message to congress broadcast to the four corners of the United States, President Coolidge may get back a permanent record of it registered on a long string of piano wire.

Backers of the device announced today that they had perfected means of recording radio messages and that they expected to demonstrate it fully on the occasion of the president's address.

The system is said to be a development of a principle discovered 16 years ago by Waldemar Poulsen, a Dane. Poulsen discovered, it is explained, that a steel wire can be magnetized in spots, much as a phonograph record is indented. The wire can be run thru a machine which reproduces in audible form whatever is recorded.

WOULD NOT SANCTION OUTSIDE JOBS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Secretary Denby said today he was opposed to requests from municipalities for services of officers in the marine corps or naval establishment.

Referring to the position of director of public safety of Philadelphia offered Brigadier General Smedley Butler by Mayor-elect Kendrick of that city, Mr. Denby said, if President Coolidge asked him regarding the case he would urge executive disapproval.

Mr. Kendrick will confer with Secretary Denby Thursday.

General Butler is understood to be willing to accept the post is given leave of absence and allowed to retain his rank in the marine corps.

DAMAGES ARE AWARDED BY CLAIMS COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Two awards aggregating $1,800,000 in favor of the United States Machinery corporation were announced late today by the German-American mixed claims commission. Interest of five per cent was allowed on a claim of $1,660,000 as of August 1, 1918, and a like rate was granted for a claim of $140,000 dating from September 1 of that year.

The Security Eyelet company was awarded $700,000 with interest from March 1, 1918, and the Roessler and Hasselacher Chemical company was awarded a claim of $400,000 with interest from January 1, 1917.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—The William Wrigley Jr. company declared four monthly dividends of 25 cents each on new capital of 1,800,000 shares. The dividends are payable January 2, Feb. 1, March 1, and April 1.

Former Official is Charged With Theft

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (A.P.)—The $100,000 breach of promise suit of Mary Lygo, former Follies girl, against Gordon C. Thorne, wealthy club man, and one for a similar amount against Mrs. K. Thorne Camp, Thorne's mother and divorced wife of William "Billy" Camp for libel, were settled out of court today just as the suit against Thorne was ready to go to trial.

One report was that the settlement was for $75,000. Thorne himself said he paid Miss Lygo $8,000 of which $5,000 was to drop the breach of promise suit and $3,000 to dismiss the action against his mother. He declared this was cheaper than attorney's fees.

Charles Erbstein, attorney for Miss Lygo, denied this, but refused to reveal the terms of settlement declaring it has been agreed not to divulge them.

Miss Lygo who twice tried to commit suicide after her break with Thorne, two years ago charged that the son of the former vice-president of a Chicago mail order house had refused to marry her after having promised to do so and that he had been dissuaded from so doing by his mother.

Mrs. Camp, she declared, had called her a "vampire." These charges were the basis for the suits.

BILLS CONTINUE TO FLOW INTO CONGRESS FOR CONSIDERATION

More Than Six Hundred Await Organization Completion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Bills continued to flow into the house legislative "hopper" today, although they cannot be introduced and printed until organization is completed.

Most of the more than 600 which had been listed tonight were measures which had failed of action last session and about half were private in nature.

Five bills dealing with proposed new immigration laws or amendments were filed.

Chairman Johnson of the immigration committee put in his bill for restriction of immigration to two per cent of the various nationalities in the United States in 1890, while Representative Sabbath, Democrat, Illinois, proposed a restriction of immigrants on a basis of two per cent of the nationalities here in 1920.

Representative Harlem, Republican, New York, asked a repeal of the immigration law now in effect.

Amendments to the Volstead act were proposed in bills filed by Representatives Hill, Republican, Maryland; Doyle, Democrat, Illinois and Sabbath. Mr. Hill advocated establishment of federal local option districts, comprising congressional districts, with the right to vote at each congressional election for light wine and beer.

Mr. Doyle asked the right of state referendum votes on light wine and beer. Mr. Sabbath sought amendment of the law to permit sale and manufacture of light wine and beer.

DATE IS SET FOR WALTON'S TRIAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 4.—Criminal proceedings against former Governor J. C. Walton for alleged offenses during his tenure of office were delayed in district court here today until December 21. The court set that date for hearing on Walton's motion to quash the six indictments in which he is charged with diverting state funds to his own use and prohibiting an assembly of the state legislature.

Meanwhile efforts to re-open the impeachment proceedings by which Walton was removed from office by a senate court of impeachment will be made by the former executive's attorneys who announced today that they would leave on December 13 for Washington to lay the case before the United States supreme court.

Their action will take the form of an appeal from a decision of the federal district court here holding that the United States court has no jurisdiction in the matter. Walton seeks a retroactive which would set aside the impeachment verdict.

UNUSUAL RULING ISSUED BY JUDGE

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 4.—Prohibition enforcement officers were given a jolt today when Federal Judge J. W. Woodruff of Omaha ruled that prohibition agents are not civil officers in any strict or constitutional sense, and are without lawful authority to serve search warrants.

The decision regarded here as the most important since the passage of the National prohibition act resulted from motion to quash evidence of illegal sale and possession of liquor against James Musgrave, Omaha druggist, and his clerk, Harry Rapp, obtained when Robert Samardick, prohibition agent raided Musgrave's place of business last November.

Future enforcement procedure is puzzling to federal officers as Judge Woodruff's decision leaves only the United States marshals with power to serve search warrants.

Rome, Dec. 4.—A semi-official communication from the Vatican today, states that no foreign cardinals will be created at the coming consistory.

SELF CONFESSED BEER RUNNER WHO RETIRED FEARING DEATH TALKS

O'Donnell Gang and Independents in Constant Warfare

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—A self-confessed beer runner who said he had retired because he feared death told detectives and deputy sheriffs a story of a bitter feud between rival hands of Chicago beer runners that he said had already resulted in four slayings in as many months with none of the ill-feeling abated.

The man was Joseph Saltis, a former Joliet saloonkeeper. He was questioned about slaying of another and three passers-by when the guards of two beer trucks clashed near Lemont, Illinois, a few days ago. He attributed this shooting and the assassination of three alleged beer runners here several months ago to the fight between independent beer runners and a beer running band which he said was headed by three brothers and led by "Spike" O'Donnell.

Independents, he declared are battling the O'Donnells and competition is so keen that whenever rival hands happen to meet they try to annihilate as many competitors as possible. Beer, Saltis told the officers, is coming into Chicago from a radius of 25 miles and much of it, he declared is coming from one brewery in Joliet.

Detailed plans have already been worked out for the air trip by the navy department, Admiral Moffett said, adding that plans were arranged before any announcement was made.

"Whether we should go to the South Pole is a question yet to be decided," he said.

"Such a venture presents greater difficulties."

POLICE NOW BELIEVE REVENGE WAS MOTIVE

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Information leading the police to believe that revenge was the motive behind the slaying of Eugene L. Tracy, former university student and electrical worker, who was found mysteriously slain in the street November 25, was given to the authorities today by Raymond Eastman of Highlands, Ind.

Eastman said that on the night preceding the slaying of Tracy, a girl who said she was Miss Alma Reynolds of Chicago, staggered into the home of his uncle, a Mr. Porter, residing near Griffith, Ind., and appealed for protection declaring that a man by the name of Tracy tried to attack her. The girl said the man had a wooden leg. Eastman said, and this strengthened the belief of the police that the man may have been Tracy as he had once leg missing.

The girl returned to Chicago next day Eastman told the police who are trying to locate her for questioning.

SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE IS FELT IN CALIFORNIA

Sacramento, Calif., Dec. 4.—An earthquake of 10 seconds duration shook telephone poles and electric lights at Quincy, Pulaski county, today, according to telephone advices received from there by the Sacramento Bee. The shocks, the advices said, began at 1:05 P. M.

NO HOPE ENTERTAINED FOR METHODIST BISHOP

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 4.—Hope for the recovery of Bishop James Atkins of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who was stricken with paralysis last night, was abandoned late today when the attending physicians stated that the end might be expected at any time.

POLICE STILL BAFFLED BY GIRL'S DISAPPEARANCE

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Police to-night, 48 hours after the mysterious disappearance of Rose Borish, 12 years old, admitted they are no nearer finding her than at the outset of their investigation after it was definitely established that Jose Dicamele, religious cult leader sentenced to the Elgin asylum was not her abductor.

NAVAL TRIP TO NORTH POLE WAS HOPE OF PEARY

Believed Seven Years Ago That Planes Could be Used

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The decision of President Coolidge to have the navy undertake a North Pole expedition is the realization of the highest hope and last wish of the late Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the pole, Henry Woodhouse, aviation magazine editor, declared today in receiving a memorandum, embodying the wish, sent by Peary to The Associated Press Dec. 22, 1916.

The attempt to explore the central polar regions and to circumnavigate the globe by crossing the north pole which was to be made next summer it was stated, was Peary's great hope in 1916 when Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, and Lieutenant Commander Robert A. Bartlett, navigator on Peary's northern trip planned to leave separate expeditions.

"Peary," the 1916 memorandum read, "calls attention to the fact that these expeditions under the command of two of the most famous and experienced living polar navigators, present possibilities of greater importance. If the work of the aeroplanes is satisfactory and it is felt that it will be, it may lead to the circumnavigation of the globe via the two poles by ship and aeroplane, as predicted by Peary at the explorers' club a few years ago."

The memorandum expressed the hope that an Antarctic expedition be attempted after the completion of the trip to the north.

Moffett's Opinion

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, discussing the proposed re-discovery of the North Pole by the navy in 1924, declared here today either the North or the South Pole could be reached by the Shenandoah, giant rigid dirigible of the United States navy.

"The only question to be decided," he said, "is the medium—whether the dirigible should be carried by hydrogen helium gas and whether airplanes should be used in conjunction with the lighter-than-air ship."

Detailed plans have already been worked out for the air trip by the navy department, Admiral Moffett said, adding that plans were arranged before any announcement was made.

"Whether we should go to the South Pole is a question yet to be decided," he said.

"Such a venture presents greater difficulties."

WITNESS TESTIFIES WILSON OPPOSED TO OUSTER OF OIL MEN

Official of Company a Contributor to Campaign Fund

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Incidents which led to the creation in the hills of Wyoming of the Naval District of Salt Creek were related today by George H. Schuler, state treasurer of New York, to the senate public lands committee in its inquiry of the leasing of naval oil reserves.

As a chaplain in the marine corps, Mr. Schuler commanded a detachment of four which was sent in July, 1922, to oust alleged trespassers from oil property.

His detail, he said, followed conferences with Major General Lejeune, commandant of the corps, who told him "a very delicate job" was in prospect, and Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior to whom he was sent by the general.

"The secretary told me that an oil company which had no right on the property was drilling," he said, "and that it must be stopped. He said he had talked to the president who at first had opposed using force saying an official of the oil company concerned was a friend of his and a contributor to the campaign fund."

Mr. Fall said he expressed his opinion of the official mentioned and the president replied, "he was all of that, I suppose, when he sent in his checks," but finally agreed to the plan.

Mr. Schuler said the dispossession of the drillers had been accomplished without serious opposition.

Much of the day's session was occupied with consideration of additions in 1922 to the stock of Mr. Fall's ranch at Three Rivers, New Mexico.

Harry F. Sinclair, holder of the lease on the reserve No. 3, testified he had sold a number of registered hogs and cattle from his Ranocas Farm in New Jersey, to Mr. Fall and had received a check for $1,100 from the latter's partner in payment. Freight charges amounting to between $800 and $900 were paid by him, the witness said.

ESCAPED CONVICTS FINALLY CAPTURED

GREENUP, Ill., Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Three escaped convicts from the penal farm at Vandalla, Ill., were captured near Casey, Ill., today by three young men from Greenup, part of a sheriff's posse after the trio of fugitives had held up a party of two deputy sheriffs, robbed them of their money and guns and kidnapped one of them.

Effingham, Ill., Dec. 4.—Fred Sanders and Charles McDonald, said to be escaped convicts from the Vandalla penal farm, and Raymond Sanders, a brother of Fred, are in jail here tonight, after having kidnapped two Effingham county deputy sheriffs and led a posse a hectic chase Tuesday morning.

Carl W. Peter Faber, deputies, and sons of Sheriff Mat Faber, were forced at the points of guns to drive the Sanders brothers and McDonald 18 miles after the officers had arrested the two brothers and had later been forced to release them when McDonald suddenly appeared and covered them with a revolver in each hand.

The deputies had arrested the Sanders in a Teutopolis, Ill., store and were taking them to an automobile when McDonald came to the rescue. Eighteen miles from Teutopolis the officers were forced to leave their car and the three men continued the trip alone. The machine which belongs to Sheriff Faber, was subsequently found wrecked two miles east of Casey, Ill.

A sheriff's posse headed by Faber arrested the three men early this afternoon as they were being driven thru Casey by a farmer, unaware of their identity, who they had hired to take them toward Terre Haute, Ind.

WONDER IF IT WILL RAISE PRICE OF ICE

New York, Dec. 4.—How she discovered the secret of beauty Mrs. Duff Cooper—formerly Lady Diana Manners—refused to say, but as she stood in a huge studio waiting to rehearse her lead in the stage spectacle, "The Miracle" she polished a peach bloom cheek with a round, smooth crystal lump and confided her recipe to a breathless girl reporter.

"Ice," she whispered. "That's it. Ice. Whenever I think of it, I rub a lump of ice on my face. Ice keeps the flesh firm and that's beauty."

KING OF BOOTLEGGERS FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

New York, Dec. 4.—Emanuel "Manny" Kessler, "King of the bootleggers" and six co-defendants were found guilty late today by a federal jury of conspiring to violate the national prohibition laws and of illegally removing alcoholic beverages from a bonded warehouse.

Four other defendants were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. Three were found not guilty.

LIFE STORY OF COOLIDGE TAKES UP SMALL SPACE

Less Than Ten Lines Used to Describe Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Side-lights on the "human side" of government officials and members of the new congress are not lacking in the biographical sketches published today in the new congressional directory.

The sketch of President Coolidge is conspicuous for its brevity, the nine and a half lines consuming about half the space used for most of the cabinet members. Cramped into the Coolidge sketch is a personal and official summary closing with his accession to the presidency August 3.

For brevity among congressional sketches, those of Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and Representative Mead, Democrat, New York, are close rivals. The former's reads:

"T. H. Caraway, Democrat, Jonesboro," and the latter's "James M. Mead, Democrat, Buffalo, N. Y."

Representative Edgar T. Howard, new Democratic member from Nebraska, relates that he was "married at lawful age" and "is still a bachelor." Also it is said of Representative Howard that he was lieutenant governor of Nebraska, while, "holding contemporaneously the higher office of editor of a country newspaper."

Number and names of children of members are matters of especial pride with a number of the sketch writers. Representative Casey, Democrat, Pennsylvania, apparently holding the congressional record with 11 off-springs. A close rival is Representative Knapp, Republican, Minnesota. Labor member from Minnesota, who boasts 10, while Representative Free, Republican, California, records the distinction that of five belonging to him "the last four named are two sets of twins."

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, notes his record as a champion rifle shot, and Representative Winter, Republican, Wyoming, recites that he is the author of the Wyoming State song and of two western novels.

Of Senator Stanford, Republican, Oregon, it is recorded that he is "America's largest producer of wool and mutton."

The sketch of Senator Frazier, the New Republican from North Dakota relates that while in college he attained "wide distinction in athletics, especially in football."

Representative Hull, Democrat, Tennessee omits the fact in his sketch that he is chairman of the Democratic national committee.

HEARING IN LOONEY CASE IS POSTPONED

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 4.—Hearing on removal proceedings for John Looney, wanted in Illinois by the federal government for trial on charges growing out of his alleged transporting of a stolen automobile from Iowa to Illinois, was postponed today until December 15 by Federal Judge Phillips to permit Looney to bring witnesses to this city to appear in his defense.

Looney asked permission of the court to bring persons who testified against him before the federal grand jury in Illinois on which the indictment was handed to Santa Fe for the removal hearing. Judge Phillips held that the government could not be forced to produce the witnesses at the hearing but granted Looney's motion.

T. LOUIS GANGSTERS ON TRIAL IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 4.—Trial of six alleged St. Louis gangsters on a charge of robbing a government mail truck in this city last April continued in the federal court today with the testimony of prosecution witnesses. The government will call ten more witnesses before it rests its case. District Attorney Thomas Williamson stated today.

A THOUGHT

Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.—Matt. 11:28.

Weariness can snore upon the flint, when weary slott flads the down pillow hard.—Shakespeare.

The way to secure needed water department improvements was recently phrased by Dr. Harker in a letter to a Jacksonville friend when he said: "See clearly what you want and then get together, work together and keep together, until you get what you see. If you and I do not forget nor let anyone else forget the things that Jacksonville needs, there will be no trouble about fully realizing the Jacksonville we have seen in our vision for 1940."

The congressman from one Illinois district has introduced a bill for five federal buildings with suggested locations at Tuscola, Clinton and several other cities in the eastern part of the state. This congressman certainly has courage when he takes into account the attitude of the government with reference to public buildings at this time. But then another election is not far in the future and perhaps the bills referred to are for campaign purposes.

A state conference of volunteer Boy Scout leaders will open today in Bloomington. More than 200 men are to attend and addresses will be made by state and national Scout officers. An all time Scout executive has been employed in Bloomington for several years past and the work maintained there under the direction of a council has given abundant proof of its worth. It is a council of like kind, with an all time executive that has been tentatively planned for Jacksonville.

THE TIME OF DEATH.

The time of one's death has always been considered beyond human knowledge. Dr. Charles Mayo, famous American surgeon, declares that in the case of most men a competent physical examination will disclose within a year or two when they will die, and what will cause their death.

This is not prophecy, in the usual sense, but merely scientific reasoning from causes to effects, as observed in thousands of cases. It is like telling a motorist that, with a given car, speed and direction, he will reach a certain point at a certain time.

But there is nothing fatal about it, in Dr. Mayo's view. This scientific foretelling of death is based, as in the case of the motorist, upon the supposition that he will continue his present procedure. The motorist may change his manner of travel; the patient may change his mode of life.

Dr. Mayo says that the average man has it in his power, by a rational change of physical habits, to add ten years to his indicated period of life.

AVIATION SUBSIDY

Professor Warner of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology suggests government subsidy for the encouragement of aviation.

He reasons like this: Airplanes are already practical for commercial purposes, but the public is dubious about them and will not use them until it is sure that they are safe and will save time. It costs money to do the commercial pioneering necessary to convince the public. The pioneers, therefore, should have help in establishing a line of business that will ultimately stand on its own feet—or fly on its own wings—and be useful to the whole country.

It sounds rather reasonable. Yet it is doubtful whether a country that has steadily refused a subsidy to ocean shipping will favor one for aviation. Americans are traditionally opposed to business subsidies. The trouble with such government help is, as experience shows, that a subsidy once granted is too hard to get rid of and stirs up too many other demands of like nature.

It is likely, therefore, that the building up of commercial aviation in America will be left to private enterprise. The government, however, can help legislation by using the air service of the army and navy experimentally, to show the way to private enterprise, and is now doing this very thing.

herself in the air, with feet on the back of one chair and neck on another, and allow two men to pound with sledgehammers on a 250-pound stone resting on her chest.

This is a favorite trick of hypnotists—demonstration might be a better word than trick. It suggests that Miss Tarabai may perform in a condition of self-hypnotism—auto-hypnosis.

Strength, after all, is more in the will power and imagination than in the muscles, nerves and glands. This is proved frequently around insane asylums when it requires half a dozen men to subdue a frail little woman-patient during maniacal frenzy.

In fighting our way to success, natural ability and influence are excellent helps. But they are not indispensable. Any one can accomplish almost anything if he has the will and the imagination (self-hypnotism) to make himself believe he has the necessary powers.

Without self-confidence, there can be no victory. That's why men of exceptional ability so often lose out.

Confidence in self is fully as important as will power (determination), possibly more so. Carried to extremes, it becomes ridiculous—conceit. But self-confidence, held in bounds, is a short cut to success.

Encourage children when they talk of the tremendous things they are going to accomplish later. If they continue believing, they'll probably turn imagination into fact. Ridiculing a child destroys his ambition and powers of accomplishment at the roots.

SEALED VERDICT IN PERSONAL INJURY SUIT

Suit of William P. Smith Against Wabash R. R. Co. Tried Yesterday in Circuit Court—Docket Entries Made Tuesday

A sealed verdict was returned late Tuesday afternoon in the personal injury suit of William P. Smith against the Wabash Railroad Co. The suit is the result of an injury sustained a number of months ago near Aynold.

Mr. Smith was struck by a piece of iron which was thrown from a freight train when a car was derailed. Mr. Smith sustained serious injuries from which he has not yet recovered. The complainant asked damages in the sum of $30,000. He was represented in the suit by Judge H. P. Samuell of Jacksonville and Oscar Puting of Springfield. The attorneys for the railroad are Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty.

Judge Smith finished his instructions to the jury shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a verdict was reached within a comparatively short time. Judge Smith adjourned court but left instructions that if a verdict was reached that it be sealed and read in court this morning.

Large Number of Members of Local Temple Attend Fall Meeting—Work Put on in Excellent Style

The fall ceremonial of Hiderim Temple No. 62, L. O. K. E., was held last evening, with an attendance of nearly one hundred and fifty members. Ten visitors were present from Rodhouse and six from Springfield. The banquet was served at 6:30 o'clock by W. E. Bentley and assistants, and was highly enjoyed by the Dokays.

Six cards of initiation were received as follows: T. C. Chumley, Howard Roberts, Howard Roach, W. Fay Davis, William Stockton and Rollin Hart. The Sepulchre of Sin, a part of the Dokay ritual, was splendidly given by Frank Bracwell and Dr. C. B. Magill, and earned for the participants the commendations of all present.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

A MERCENARY LAY

BY BERTON BRALEY

PHILOSOPHERS explain to us,
And moralists maintain to us,
That money is an evil and a curse;
Yet, when you come to think of it
You like to hear the clink of it.
Or feel it bulking fatly in your purse.
For life is much more fair withoutal,
Despite what preachers say,
If one just has the wherewithal
To pay.

TRUE, poverty's no crime at all.
But I won't say that I'm at all
Persuaded it's a virtue to be poor;
Pounds, dollars or napoleons—
The fairly earned simoleons
Are not exactly wicked, I am sure.
To have some cash to spare with all
Makes things a lot more gay;
It's good to have the wherewithal
To pay.

PRINCE

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois Historical Society

If you never had a dog this will not interest you.

Some one has said: "Man's best friend is his dog."
Who is there that cannot realize how much of truth there is in the statement, and who that does not care to do so?

Few indeed!

One Sunday morning when we lived in Perry, in Pike county, Father and Mother had word that Uncle Joe Thompson, at Merced, was very sick and they were wanted there, because Aunt Sarah, Uncle Joe's wife, was Mother's sister.

So Father got up the horse and buggy, and he and Mother started to "the River," as we used to say. They were glad to find that Uncle Joe was not so ill as they had feared, and they came home that evening, getting home about ten o'clock at night.

Whoever had charge of me had put me to rest in "Mother's bed," and I was not conscious of their arrival. But soon a queer feeling woke me up.

I had another uncle living where Uncle Joe did.
His name was Stafford Smith, and we used to call him "Uncle Star." (That was before he had the smallpox, that year it was so bad. But I guess smallpox always is very bad.)

Uncle Star had a little poodle dog, named Ino. She looked about like a dirty mop rag, and the hair covered her eyes, and she was blind, but Aunt Jane said: "Ino is awful smart, and knows a lot, if she is blind."

Well, Ino had an awfully nice little puppy dog. So Uncle Star thought it would be mighty nice to send the baby dog to me.

And it sure was!

Then Uncle or Father put the little dog in the buggy, under the folks' feet, and they brought him over to Perry, and put him in the bed with me.

And it was that little dog, snuffing about my face and giving me dog kisses that woke me up. I was only about four years old then, and at first I was afraid of him, but soon got over being so and we were always friends afterwards.

You just ought to have seen that little dog! They said his father was a Newfoundland dog, and he was of good size and had the beautiful hair of that sort of a dog, and he had the nicest kind of a white collar around his neck, and his whole coat was black and white, and the black was so smooth and glossy. I have always been sorry I did not get a picture of him.

Then he was so pleasant and kind, and after he got grown Frank Ballard and I hitched him up to my sled and had fun with him. (Frank lives down in Texas now, and has been a judge.)

Mr. Baird, Mrs. W. J. Bryan's father was Father's partner in the store, and he shot lots and lots of Prince. Sometimes Prince went to dinner with Mr. Baird, and Well, Prince stayed with us.

Prince liked him too. I tell you he was a nice dog.

Prince used to have to go with our horse, Trusty, when we went riding, and Prince would jump toward Trusty's head, and bark and bark for about a quarter of a mile. He liked Trusty too, and I'll Wenzel, next door. And he used to visit across the street with Miss Shade, and she used to set up lots of good things for him to eat.

We didn't illtreat Prince; he used to sit by Father's chair, and would not pay any attention to Mother, except when Father was away. Then he would go and sit or lie by her.

Prince went around a good deal with Father, and one time Ross the Temperance lecturer had meetings in Perry, and the people got the man who kept the only saloon in town to sell out to them. Then one day a crowd of men went up to the place, and got the whiskey and stuff, and poured it out on the ground. And Belle Mooers, who boarded at our house then, said Father was there, because she had seen Prince's tail. One time I went out to Henry Moore's and came home on Sunday morning in their "jumper, and most froze" my feet. When I got in to the fire in our sitting room, and took off my shoes to warm my feet, I felt it would be better to put them on Prince, and he seemed to enjoy letting me do it, and my feet soon got nice and warm. I tell you he was a good dog.

When I was about eleven years old, we came over here to live, and had to take the car up from Naples, so Father got a rope and tied it round Prince's neck, and took him into the baggage car. He did not seem to like the idea much, but he got here all right.

The next Thanksgiving Day, in the forenoon, Prince came proudly home, carrying a fine roast of meat in his mouth. But we never found out where he got it.

One day, when I was about thirteen years old, after the rest of the family had left the dinner table, I said something which did not suit Grandmother, and she said she would box my ears. Prince was lying by my side, and I ran over and stood under the high, old fashioned mantel shelf. As I went I said: "Prince, you are not going to let me get hurt, are you?" He followed right after me, and jumped up, and put one of his forepaws on each of my shoulders. Then, when Grandmother struck at me he turned toward her hand and growled at her. She tried twice more, on different ears, and he warned her off, and she gave up punishing me. Now I never could see how that dog knew just how to defend me. He surely had good sense, and a boy or two of those days is left who remembers about him.

In the summer of 1864 I did a little work on the farm, and one night when I came home, Mother told me Prince was gone. I surely liked that dog, and he was a good friend. So the person quoted at the beginning of this story had this in support of his assertion.

I have never forgotten the good old dog.

U. S. W. V. TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY DEC. 12

Col. O. C. Smith to Deliver Address by Radio from Davenport—Will Celebrate Close of Spanish-American War

On Dec. 12 the United Spanish War Veterans of America will celebrate the signing of the Treaty of Paris, which officially closed the Spanish-American war 25 years ago. The event will be celebrated in a fitting manner by two radio programs broadcasted from stations WOC, Palmer Chiropractic school at Davenport, and KSD, St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Col. O. C. Smith of this city, commander of the Department of Illinois, U. S. W. V., will deliver the address from the station at Davenport, and Oscar E. Carlstrom of Aledo, Ill., past commander-in-chief of the organization will deliver the address from St. Louis.

In order that Spanish war veterans throughout the central west and all others interested may know what to expect on their radios in commemoration of the closing event of the war of '98, the official programs of both stations are published as follows:

Bugle call, assembly—George Strohle, Rock Island, Ill.
Selection, national airs—Blues Orchestra, Rock Island, Ill.
Song, "Illinois"—Temple Chorus, Rock Island, Ill.

Address, "The Spanish-American War—Col. Oscar C. Smith, Dent. Com., U. S. W. V., Jacksonville, Ill."

Song, "Just Break the News to Mother"—Temple Chorus, Rock Island.

Reading, "Poppies"—Emil Hass, Davenport, Iowa.

Selection, "Stars and Stripes Forever"—Blues Orchestra, Rock Island.

Song, "On the Banks of the Wabash"—Temple Chorus, Rock Island.

Reading, "Remembrance"—Emil Hass, Davenport.

Selection, "America"—Blues Orchestra, Rock Island.

Bugle call, taps—George Strohle, Rock Island.

Following is the program from station KSD at St. Louis: Opening announcement by Miss Jones, describing the "Words and Music" of the Spanish-American war which was fought 25 years ago.

WELL-KNOWN WAVERLY MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Newton Rohrer Passed Away Tuesday Morning at Home of Sister in Springfield, Mo.—Funeral Arrangements not Made.

Waverly, Dec. 4.—The news of the death of Newton Rohrer at Springfield, Mo., came as a great shock to relatives and friends in Waverly. The deceased had gone to Springfield to spend the Thanksgiving season with his sister, Mrs. James Hutchison, and was found dead in bed Tuesday morning.

Mr. Rohrer had been in failing health for a number of months past and in recent weeks had suffered a number of heart attacks. He retired about 10:30 o'clock Monday night, seemingly in his usual health. When he did not arise at the usual time Tuesday morning an investigation was made and his lifeless body was found. He had apparently died without a struggle and life had probably been extinct for several hours before the body was discovered.

Mr. Rohrer was about 70 years of age and had spent all of his life in the Waverly community. He was a son of the late Bert Rohrer, who died a number of years since. His mother Mrs. Jane Rohrer still survives and is a resident of Waverly. His wife died very suddenly a little more than a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohrer had no children of their own but they made a home for their orphaned niece and nephew during their childhood years.

The deceased is survived by his aged mother, one sister, Mrs. James Hutchison of Springfield, Mo., a niece, Mrs. Guy Bradford, of Texas, and a nephew, Hershey Crain of Chicago.

Mr. Rohrer was a member of the First M. E. church and at the time of his death was a member of the official board of that organization. He was prominent in Knights of Pythias and Knights Templar circles and in every way was an exemplary citizen, loved and respected by many. He was one of the most influential residents of Waverly and had extensive property interests.

The remains are to be brought to Waverly and will arrive some time Wednesday. The announcement of the time of the funeral will be made later.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF

MRS. JAMES L. McDONALD

The loving hands that ministers

The fruit of the heart in deed,

Are the tools that bring from the soil of God,

What others most cherish, and need.

The deeds that stand the test of time

As seasons onward roll,

Are stamped with ink indelible,

Recorded on memory's scroll.

The greatest life that one can live,

Is a life that's lived for others

That brings that human fellowship,

Binds every one as brothers

We wonder long, we seek in vain,

Some grander deed to do,

But idling hours pass swiftly on

Wondering this life thro'

Some may rise to the height of fame,

And bask in its sunshine

fair,

How soon they will crumble in ruin again,

If regard for another's not there.

And when we look back thro'

the book of her life,

The golden deeds stamped on its leaves,

How each pitiful want would bring tears to her eyes

How for others distress she would grieve.

How those hands never tired of kind actions of love,

How those lips spoke tenderness of heart.

We know she's gone, but in our own lives,

Abides, as the nobler part!

And Father we know in Thy

Tenderest care,

Rest the soul of that dear

loving one,

While here in this world is the stamp of her life,

Placed, on her actions

"Well done."

FUNERAL OF VIRGINIA GIRL HELD YESTERDAY

Remains of Miss Jennie Marr Dunaway Laid to Rest Tuesday Afternoon—Bad Fire Narrowly Averted—Other Virginia News.

Virginia, Dec. 4.—Miss Jennie Marr Dunaway a very prominent young woman of this city, passed away at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Gordley at 11:15 Sunday night. Death was due to blood poisoning which developed from a canker sore in her mouth. Every-thing medical aid and science could do was to no avail.

Miss Dunaway was the only child of the late Dr. Allen Dunaway and wife, both parents passing away during her infancy and she has been reared in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordley. She was educated in the public schools here and later attended the Abbott Academy in Massachusetts for two years. With the Gordley family she was contemplating spending the winter in the south as has been her custom for several years past, when her sudden passing came as she had been ill but a few days.

"Jennie Marr," as she was familiarly known was of a cheerful disposition and had the rare faculty of brightening the hopes of all with whom she came in contact. She will be sadly missed in the home, the church and the social circles in which she was a bright and shining light.

Funeral services were held from the Gordley home at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. Rev. D. V. Gowdy, pastor of the M. E. church officiating. Burial was in the Walnut Ridge cemetery.

The fire department had an early run Monday morning to the R. C. Shell Garage where an overheated furnace at first gave much alarm. Owing to the prompt action of the fire department a disastrous fire was narrowly averted.

Many cars were stored in the building also premiums of much value which were on display in the building for the "Gift Campaign" which is being staged by the Chamber of Commerce.

Carbone from the Tom Corwin farms at Coalton, Ohio, was reserve champion.
Wendell Starlight, owned by George Wendelsson, LaMoille, Ill., won the grand champion for Shire mares and Rose Mayflower won the reserve award.
Black Cap Revolution owned by James D. McGregor, Brandon, Manitoba, was selected grand champion bull in the Aberdeen-Angus division.
Charles Richert, LaMoille, Ill.,

captured the aged beard championship in the Chester Whites with an aged specimen.
The University of Minnesota annexed the Poland China barrow championship as well as the reserve and honors for the best pen Iowa State college had the champion Hampshire barrow as well as pen honors, and the champion and reserve champion barrows in the Tamworth division.
The championship for the best ram in the breeding ram bouliet class went to Orth Brothers, McGuffey, Ohio. The University of Illinois took the champion ewe award on a yearling.
In the barley division at the grain and hay show, the United States and Canada shared honors about even in the three classes.

AERIAL SLEEPERS
TO BE NEXT STEP

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Aerial sleepers in which passengers will slumber peacefully as they travel from one city to another between dusk and dawn will provide the de luxe transportation of the not far distant future, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' convention was told today by Archibald and Donald R. Black, aeronautical engineers of Garden City, N. Y. Berths for airplanes have not been designed because there has been no need for them as yet, they said. But the rapid development of commercial flying ultimately will necessitate their construction they said.
Possible within the next ten years they said, at least fifty airplanes will fly to and from New York and Chicago daily. While immediate competition will be limited to the carriage of mail and packages, the engineers declared and airplanes ultimately would compete with railroad trains in passenger service.
In immediate prospects the blacks reported was a night message carrying system in competition with telegraphic night letters. An airplane carrying 450 pounds of mail, less than one-fourth its capacity, would carry a night letter between New York and Chicago at a cost of $1188 cents.

MILITARY RITES
Bath, Dec. 4.—One of the largest funerals ever held in Bath was held Sunday for the third victim that was drowned in the Illinois river with two others on Tuesday. His body was not found until Thursday. Thanksgiving evening about four o'clock.
John M. Butler was 29 years of age and leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two children; five brothers, two sisters and his mother, namely: Mrs. Frank Hitchens, of near Chicago; Mrs. Herbert Farnum, of Manitowish; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Butler, of Elgin, Ill.; Bruno, of near Chicago; and Andrew, of near Elgin; Julian and Elmer, who reside here in Bath. They were all present at the funeral. The American Legion of Havana, about fifty of them, had charge of the services at the cemetery. Rev. J. J. Meaker, of Pleasant Plains, officiating. Interment was in the Bath cemetery. He leaves many friends who will miss him, besides a host of relatives.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT LOSES FAMOUS OLD BLACK HAT
Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 4.—Gov. Pinchot has lost his "old black hat" the famous "sky piece" which did valiant duty during the Roosevelt campaign of 1912 and the gubernatorial canvass of 1922. He lost it in a most peculiar way—doing a nose dive out of a canoe he was propelling in Yellow Breeches Creek near here. The story leaked out at the capitol today.

BRIEFS
(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 4.—Rep. Nelson of Wisconsin, chairman of the house insurgent group today published a letter of apology to Frank B. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, for a statement issued last week by the executive committee of the group in which it was charged Secretary Mellon's plan of income tax reduction would favorably affect the publisher.
St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The Coronado Coal Co., of Arkansas today appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals from the decision of Federal Judge Pollock, Oct. 27, directing a verdict for the defendants in a re-trial of its suit against the United Mine Workers of America for $2,222,000 for alleged damages to property 1914, coal miners strike.
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 4.—Fred Zimmerman, the new president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railroad, and a group of the company officials, are here today, inspecting the property of the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis railroad, which has been ordered sold December 15.
Dixon, Ill., Dec. 4.—Frank Ryan, released from a long term in the county jail this morning was immediately re-arrested for an alleged assault on a fellow prisoner, while in the jail.
Dixon, Ill., Dec. 4.—City Attorney E. E. Wingert announced he would go into circuit court this afternoon and ask a court order closing three Dixon drug stores for one year for alleged violations of liquor laws. He would not name the owners against whom the injunctions are sought until after he has filed his petitions.
St. Louis, Dec. 4.—Search for adulterated nuts in Missouri, Arkansas and southern Illinois is being conducted by the U. S. food and drug inspection office, here, it was announced today. An adulterated nut, it was explained, is one that is moldy, decomposed or contains no meat in the shell. Those found below standard are seized.
Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—Development of the daily vacation bible school as a part of the work of the church, was described before the national Presbyterian conference here today by Harold M. Robinson of Philadelphia, secretary of the division of Christian education in the home, church and community. In 1913, there were only 52 of the vacation schools he said, while in 1923, they numbered 1100 and had an enrollment of more than 100,000.
Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 4.—In the hearing before Police Magistrate Dehew, Robert Reed and R. O. Smith, leading figures in the Chicago and Alton freight robbery last week, were both fined $100 and costs and dismissed from the service of the railroad. Edward, Betha, who made a co-defendant with Reed and Smith, was fined $100 and costs, but re-instated in the railroad service when it was found that he had not actually participated in the crime itself, but had accepted a pair of the stolen shoes.

Sterling, Ill., Dec. 4.—The Sterling city council last evening refused to amend the local ordinances to permit Sunday shows of any kind, turning down the petition presented several weeks ago by a number of business men. The petitioners were advised by the council that if they believed a majority of the people of the city wished Sunday shows, they should present a properly prepared and signed petition calling for a special election on the proposition. Such a proposal was submitted to the voters a few years ago and was rejected four to one.
Springfield, Dec. 4.—Governor Small today announced the appointment of Schuyler E. Redpath of Springfield as mine officer in the department of mines and minerals to succeed Patrick Gillen, also of Springfield. Mr. Gillen was appointed mine inspector which is not a code office.

Springfield, Dec. 4.—Corporation papers were issued by the department of state today to the University of Northern Illinois, organized "not for profit" with headquarters at 2513 South Hamilton avenue. Incorporators named are Charles Beverly, Clara Egloff, and James F. McKnight.
POLITICAL POT IN ENGLAND IS BOILING
London, Dec. 4. (A. P.)—With only one more day available for campaigning, electioneering today reached a climax of intensity. There was a perfect tornado of speeches, manifestos, statements, and counter-statements, accusations and counter-accusations on all points calculated to influence the voters on Thursday.
The most remarkable in the test of physical endurance are Lloyd George and Winston Churchill and the most striking exception is Herbert Asquith, who, having a stiff contest to meet, has confined his efforts to his own constituency, Paisley. Somewhat noticeable is that whether thru lack of necessary funds or thru having but few press organs the Labor campaign appears to be conducted with less noise and stress than either the conservative or liberal campaigns.

sideration of the rules by which the house is to be governed, "we shall have some definite concrete proposals by way of amendments."
"We are unified and ready," he added, "to take up the country's business whenever the majority party can reach the point where functioning is possible."
While house insurgents were standing firm the Progressive bloc in the senate had another conference for discussion of its attitude in the event of a number of possible developments on the senate side. Some of their spokesmen said they were simply moving along with circumstances and awaiting a report on assignments to standing committees to be made by the Republican committee on committees.
There is a tacit understanding among the groups in the senate that any fight over re-organization, will be delayed until after President Coolidge has addressed congress. And the probabilities are that there will be no fight until after the suggested placing of senators on committees has been announced by the Republicans dealing with this matter.

TESTIMONY SHOWS
M'CRAY AS FARMER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 4.—Testimony intended to show that Governor McCray's chief occupation is that of a farmer was presented at the hearing in federal court here today on the petition of three Fort Wayne, Indiana, banks to have McCray adjudged a bankrupt. Several residents of Newton county, Indiana, where the governor's Orchard Lake Stock Farm is located, testified regarding the management of the farm by the executive and also gave technical information regarding values of the governor's farm land in the county. At the start of the present hearing, attorneys for Governor McCray asked dismissal of the petition on the ground that the governor was a farmer and therefore exempt under federal law from bankruptcy proceedings. Judge Anderson in overruling the motion declared the executive would have to prove that farming was his principal occupation.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Dance Tonight.

The Dokays will hold one of their regular dances this evening at Castle Hall. Large orchestra will furnish the music and a good crowd is expected.

Charivari for Returned Couple

A crowd of about twenty young people went Monday evening to the home of Mrs. Hennessy on Duolin avenue and presented Mr. and Mrs. John Roach, who recently returned from their honeymoon, with an old-fashioned charivari. The members of the party were invited into the house and spent the evening with the bride and groom. Treats were passed around and everybody was highly pleased.

Orleans Country Club

The meeting of the Orleans Country Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Greenleaf near Alexander.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather causing the roads to be very bad, the meeting was not a large one.

The program consisted of a paper by Mrs. George Graff on the Ku Klux Klan and was very interestingly handled. During the serving of refreshments by the hostess the guests lingered for a delightful social hour.

Party Is Given for Gabriel Fitzgerald

A party was given Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank U. Correa on West Walnut street, in honor of their son, Gabriel Fitzgerald. The young people spent several hours very pleasantly with music and dancing and dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. Fitzgerald left Tuesday morning to resume his duties at the Naval Torpedo station, Barge 1, of the Battleship Tennessee, at Newport, R. I.

Those in the company at the recent party were Opal Chappell, Anna Burchett, Dorothy Green, Una Chappell, Nell Winstead, Katherine Winstead, Mrs. Ralph Stringham, Donald Fitzgerald, Charles Race, William Fitzgerald, Merle Green and Gabriel Fitzgerald.

Birthday Party for Mrs. Alonzo Radloff

Mrs. Alonzo Radloff was pleasantly surprised at her home in Litchberry last evening on the occasion of her 37th birthday. Twenty-four relatives and friends were present, and at 6:30 o'clock a bountiful supper was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing croquet. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. John Guy, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Daniels and daughter, Freida, Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Young and family; Mrs. Verne Young, Jess Litter, Mrs. C. P. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hagan and daughters, Irene and Thelma and Miss Lulu Henderson.

Bazaar at State Street Church

Christmas buying was evident at the Bazaar of the Ladies of State Street church held in the basement of the church yesterday from ten to A. M. The decorations of red, green with an artistic touch of poinsettias displayed for sale brightened the hearts of all, and the sale went along splendidly despite the rain. Today persons who failed on account of yesterday's bad weather will have one more chance to attend the bazaar, as the ladies will continue the sale until the articles are sold.

The ladies pledged and paid $100 last year and have obligated themselves for a like amount this year on a building fund. Plans for providing adequate accommodations for both the growing Sunday school and more com-

Illinois Day at Tuesday Club

The East Side Tuesday Club met yesterday afternoon in one of the most delightful meetings of the year with Miss Clara Ranson as hostess at her home on Finley street. It was the club's "Illinois" day, and a program in keeping with the subject had been arranged and was carried out as follows: Roll call was responded to by naming some historical spot in Illinois, which proved very interesting. The entire membership of the club sang "Illinois" but the real feature of the afternoon's entertainment centered in the paper of Mrs. Flo Jamison Miller of Monticello on "Pioneer Women of Illinois."

Mrs. Miller is the mother of Mrs. Donahoe, a member of the club, and is a woman widely known in club circles. Her historical societies of the state. At the present time she is a member of the state board of the Illinois Women's Federated Clubs and district president of the 19th district of Federated Women's Clubs, and secretary of the state historical society of the state of Illinois, and is National secretary of the Woman's Council.

Her paper brought out a great many interesting facts about women of early days in the development of Illinois, and particularly traced the development of education for women thru the pioneer women who fostered the ideals of education from which the splendid present institutions of learning developed.

The paper was so much appreciated by the large membership and guests in attendance that a desire was expressed that the paper might be printed in its entirety.

The guests lingered for a social hour following the program during which time the hostess served refreshments.

Margaret Stone who was injured by being run over by an auto on the public square Saturday night, was able to leave Our Savior's hospital Monday evening for her home on East Railroad street.

VALUABLE HORSE DIES AT WHITE HALL.

White Hall, Ill. (A. P.)—Car not, a famous Percheron steer which recently died was valued at $10,000, according to W. S. Corsa, its owner, whose home is here. The horse, which was imported from France in 1909 sired the Grand Champions at the International live stock show in Chicago for 10 consecutive years, a record never before equaled, according to Mr. Corsa.

Mrs. John Kastrup, who has been critically ill following a severe surgical operation, is now reported as much improved. This will be gratifying news to her friends.

NEPHEW OF LOCAL MAN WEDS IN DUBUQUE, IOWA

Marriage of Frank C. Baker, of Kansas City and Miss Janann Guthrie Took Place Recently in Dubuque, Iowa.

Many local people will be interested in knowing of the recent marriage in Dubuque, Iowa, of Miss Janann Guthrie to Mr. Frank C. Baker, of Kansas City, Mo. Baker, who is a nephew of W. W. Holliday of this city is well known by many local people.

The following paragraphs telling of the wedding are taken from the Dubuque paper:

The marriage of Miss Janann Guthrie, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Renwick Guthrie, 1005 Locust street, to Frank Crowell Baker of Kansas City, Mo., was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal church Tuesday evening.

The nuptial service was read at 8 o'clock by Dr. John E. Baker, of Dubuque, a former rector of St. John's church, and an intimate friend of the Guthrie family. Chrysanthemums in the autumn shades, and oak leaves arranged in large baskets, decorated the church throughout, offering a colorful background for the ceremony.

An organ recital was given by Dwight Phelps during the half hour period that preceded the service. Promptly at the hour of the ceremony, the bridal carpet was unrolled by the ushers, and the bridal couple entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. The procession was led by the ushers, the Messrs. Blatchford Downing and William C. Wells of Kansas City, G. Dennison Cherry of Little Rock, Ark., William C. Cain of Atchison, Kans., William B. Myers, Thomas M. Stamper and Carl G. Mulgrew of Dubuque.

They were followed by the six bridesmaids, in sleeveless gowns of the shade tones of orange chiffon with moire silk sashes, and trimmed with medallions of variegated French flowers. They carried arm bouquets of autumn flowers, chrysanthemums, snap dragons, and roses, in the shades blending with their gowns. Miss Ruth Flower of Kansas City, and Miss Neva Lange of Dubuque, walked first. Their gowns were of the deepest shade of orange worn with self-colored sashes. Next in line were the Misses Elizabeth Greeley of Winnetka, Ill., and Marjorie Bonson of Dubuque, gowned in a lighter shade of orange with lavender sashes. They were followed by Miss Adele Byrne of Dubuque, and Mrs. Marjorie B. Sharp of Kansas City. Their gowns were of the lightest shade of orange, worn with the sashes. Gold head bands and gold slippers and stockings were worn by the bridesmaids.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Raymond E. Lee, of Manila, Philippine Islands, a sister of the groom, entered after the bridesmaids. Her gown was of orchid chiffon with self-colored sash. Miss Dorothy Prentiss, of Winona, Minn., the maid of honor, preceded the bride. She was gowned in blue chiffon brocaded in silver. Mrs. Lee and Miss Prentiss carried bouquets of chrysanthemums, snap dragons, and roses, and wore silver headbands, and silver slippers and stockings.

The bride, entering with her father, was a graceful figure in bridal robe of white chiffon velvet. Her gown was made in Princess fashion, and a circular flounce of self material hung from the low waistline. Pearls outlined the edge of the flounce, sleeves and neck, and from her shoulders swept a long court train, lined with silver cloth. Her headress, a coronet of pearls, held the veil of tulle which enveloped the long train, and was fastened with a face veil. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

At the altar the bride and her attendants were joined by the groom, and his best man, John Fennelly, Jr., of Kansas City. Dr. Dysart used the single ring service in reading the marriage ritual.

From the church, the invited guests went to the Guthrie residence, where Dr. and Mrs. Guthrie entertained a company of about one hundred and fifty. Mrs. Guthrie wore a gown of toulaine blue velvet, made with state train and caught at the side with a pearl ornament. Her corsage was of orchids.

Dancing was given in the spacious ballroom on the third floor of the home, where a two-course

Mr. and Mrs. Baker departed at midnight for Seattle, Wash., from where they will sail on December 4, for a tour around the world. They will spend considerable time in Japan, China and India. When leaving the city, the bride was attired in a suit of soft green duvetyn trimmed with beaver and hat of brown satin, cloche shaped and trimmed with summer ermine.

Following their honeymoon, they will be at home at the Sophian Plaza, Kansas City, Mo. The bride was educated at Miss Weaver's school in New York City and graduated from Vassar College. The groom took undergraduate work at Princeton University and received his Master's Degree at Harvard. He is associated with the Hall Baker Grain company of Kansas City.

YOUNG FOLKS OF DAY CREATE NEW PROBLEMS

Fathers and Mothers Not Forced to Contend With Movies, Cabarets, and Jazz Music Dance Halls.

CENTRALIA, Ill.—Uncensored movies, unchaperoned cabarets, and jazz music dance halls, according to Mrs. George Thomas Palmer, President of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, have created an entirely new problem for the young folks today, which their mothers and fathers had not to contend with. Mrs. Palmer made the assertion in an address here at a meeting of club women held under the auspices of the Centralia Woman's club.

Entertainment of the "old days" when husking bees, barn raisings and church socials offered proper relaxation," Mrs. Palmer said, "did not create a problem, and we did not need to worry about safety valves for surplus energies. Those harmless pleasures met the need of the day. Now, however, we have to take cognizance of the fact that the uncensored movies, the unchaperoned cabaret, and dance halls where jazz music, overheated and unventilated rooms, lead to familiarities and temptation sometimes hard to resist."

Mrs. Palmer mentioned these things in emphasizing the necessity of a greater interest in good government on the part of Illinois women.

"Whether she is conscious of it or not," she said, "every woman is vitally concerned in government, since it touches almost every relationship of her daily life, through officials she should help choose. The young girl may not be interested in government but let her become a wife and mother and she becomes deeply concerned in the enforcement of laws which provide for adequate training and supervision of physicians and nurses, laws which exact birth registration for protection of the child, and laws demanding the right kind of care at birth.

"Every mother should be vitally interested in all laws protecting the health of her family, and is, in a measure, responsible for proper administration of city and state health departments.

"Unmarried women should be just as much interested in good government as mothers, because good government means clean streets and alleys; protected thoroughfares and homes; fine buildings, beautiful parks and wholesome recreation. But we must remember that the government cannot rise higher in its standards and conceptions than the combined ideas of the individual voters."

"Women have no excuse for grumbling," Mrs. Palmer said in closing, "if they are not voting and taking an intelligent interest in the subject of government. We are the people, we are the government, and we are the voters. Go to the primaries first, that you may help select the right kind of candidates. Then see that they are elected."

TO FARM BUREAU MEMBERS

George B. Kendall County Agent in a Recent Letter to Bureau members gave the following paragraphs:

Gets New Member
Pres. C. S. Black recently appointed a membership committee consisting of L. A. Reed, W. H. Crum, and C. A. Rowe. This committee believes in selecting a man who would make a good farm bureau member and going after him. Do you know of one person who would make a good member? Can you land him? Try it, and if successful bring him into the Annual Meeting.

Isn't This The Truth
If the average farmer would stop listening to and breathing propaganda against his own organization and would come to his management to find out the reason for seeming injustices, he would eliminate two-thirds of the troubles in farm organization work.—James C. Stone, Pres. and Manager of the Burley Tobacco Growers Association the worlds largest cooperative marketing association.

Utility Corn at the International
The utility type of corn, as recognized in Illinois for the past three years has annually been shown by many Illinois exhibitors at "The International," but is this year promised recognition at the show for the first time. Illinois has taken the lead in insisting that more and more attention should be given in the judging of corn to those whose characters which seem to be correlated with productivity. In other words, show corn, if it deserves a premium, should be superior seed corn.

At the April meeting of the representatives of the several states, called by the management of the Grain and Hay Show, to make plans for the 1923 "International," a change was made in the zoning system. A line was drawn from Chicago southward on the Illinois-Indiana line making four sections of what was formerly two. Thus, the western portion of Zones 3 and 4, in which Illinois falls, is known as Zones 3 and 4 West. At this April meeting a committee was appointed from each of the several states concerned and from Canada to agree upon types and recommend as such to the Judges' Committee at "The International."

The points which should be especially emphasized in selecting a sample for "The International" are—lustre, freedom from excess starch, firm, heavy ears, and shanks which are free from discoloration. Care must be given to uniformity, of course, as a poorly matched, irregular sample is never as favorably considered by a judge as a uniform one. Samples in Zone 3 West, which is that portion of Illinois lying north of a line drawn along the north edge of Hancock, McDonough, Fulton, Tazewell, McLean, Champaign and Vermillion counties, should be at least 9 1/2 inches long, while those from Zone 4 West, which is that portion of Illinois lying south of this line should be 10 inches in length. The number of rows is not specified, but as a rule will run to 16 to 18 rows in Northern Illinois and 16 to 20 in central and southern.

Entries close November 10th, Illinois exhibitors are urged to make application for entries in plenty of time and to have their samples in Chicago not later than Monday, November 26. In case an exhibitor wishes to bring his exhibit in person, he can do so up until Friday noon, November 30, provided proper entries have been made in advance.

The Legume Farmer
The use of ground limestone has increased enormously within the past ten years and with this increased use of lime the legume farmer has become prominently to the foreground. This type of farmer grows as large an acreage of legumes as in practical, and often this allows him to grow some legumes each year on each acre of cultivated land. This method of farming is a distinct departure from the rapidly passing type of farming in which no legumes are grown.

There are various crop rotations in which legumes may be utilized for various purposes with apparent profit. Legumes in the rotation may be used entirely for soil improvement purposes, or they may be grown primarily for feed, with soil improvement as a secondary importance.

These two motives for growing legumes call for a somewhat different rotation, or at least a distinctly different method of handling the legumes in similar rotations. Various clovers, alfalfa, soybeans and cowpeas compose the main legume crops. These may be readily used in various rotations with the main crops of corn, wheat and oats.

The wheat, corn, oats clover rotation, which happens to be more or less used at present, is well adapted to legume farming. In this rotation the wheat may have a seeding of sweet clover to be used for a fall hay crop, or pasture and finally turned under the following spring as green manure for the corn. The corn may have soybeans seeded in for pasture purposes. The oats may have a seeding of red, alsike, mammoth, or a mixture of clovers, which furnishes hay, seed or pasture the following year. This plan gives some legume on each field each season, and the rotation is desirable from the standpoint of soil improvement and the production of feed. This is only one rotation of the many which may be put into practice with the legume crop as the foundation. There may be worked out practical legume rotations similar to the above which may be suitable to various types of farming.

CHIROPRACTOR WITHOUT LICENSE FOUND GUILTY
Danville, Ill., Dec. 4.—A circuit court jury here today found Max M. Walder, chiropractor, guilty of treating human ailments without being licensed by the state. Sentence was withheld pending an appeal which counsel for the defendant said would be taken to test the 1923 law.

A similar case taken to the supreme court about one year ago resulted in the 1913 law being declared unconstitutional and the result in the present case will be watched with interest by chiropractors throughout the state.

REMOVAL OF MANY SIGNBOARDS ASKED

General Move in This Respect Underway—Is One Way of Removing Danger at Crossings.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(A. P.)—Co-operation of every municipality in the state in eliminating advertising signs from the right-of-way of state highways has been asked by Governor Small.

"Eliminations of unsightly signboards, which have given ragged edges to so many of the thoroughfares in other states, is gradually being accomplished and if each village, town and city in Illinois will keep the right of way of state roads through corporate limits free from signs other than those erected by the state, our efforts will be realized more expeditiously," Governor Small said.

"Illinois has been the pioneer among the states in this movement. No signs or advertising matter have been permitted on state highways during this administration. Illinois has seen the logic of preserving the right of way in this respect with the result that we have hundreds of miles of drives fringed with grass, trimmed to a lawn-like nicety and unmarred by unsightly billboards which are so often seen in neighboring commonwealths."

Advantages Named.

Colonel C. R. Miller, director of the department of public works and buildings, in pointing out the advantages of the state's policy, said that "it is difficult to catch the meaning of a danger sign at a railroad crossing, side road, crossroad when official signs are confused with commercial posters."

"In addition to the danger and inconvenience," the colonel said, "caused by promiscuous right-of-way advertising, it detracts from, if it does not destroy, the natural beauty of the country. When highways are lined with posters the clean cut appearance of the drives and pleasures of travel are deprived from the tourist."

"Connecticut has followed Illinois' clean highway policy, has passed a law prohibiting signs on the right-of-way," Colonel Miller said. "Minnesota has also followed suit and a law in that state effective December 1, 1923 provides for the elimination of advertising signs already standing, as well as prohibiting the construction of new ones."

"This one rule," Colonel Miller continued, "has worked wonders in adding beauty to our state drives. The result is noticeable even to the busiest of men and has been commented upon by tourists passing through the state this summer. Our goal seems to be worth striving for and I believe that everyone will co-operate with the governor's program of beautification of state highways."

Detroit, Dec. 4.—The meeting here, December 12 of the allied Ford-for-president clubs, designed to nominate Henry Ford for president, will be a semi-executive conference. William Kronberg, of Dearborn announced today, following a meeting of the arrangements committee.

FINE PROGRAM AT WEST LIBERTY SCHOOL

Children Gave Program Before Large Audience—Pie Social Netted Goodly Sum.

The Thanksgiving program given by Jennie May Worrell Wednesday evening, November 28, at West Liberty school was a great success. Over thirty dollars was taken in clearing near twenty two dollars. The proceeds will be used for getting a much needed dictionary.

The school room was very prettily decorated in pumpkin and corn color crepe paper. Turkeys, chains, and pumpkins set off the windows and black-board.

Clyde Sturdy auctioned off the pies. Those who did not purchase pies, went down into the basement where they purchased hot coffee, hot rollers and buns, candy, peanuts, pieces of pie and chewing gum. No one went home hungry.

Below is the program which was given:

AGED MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL

J. H. Campbell Is Unconscious at Home West of City After Falling Down Cellar Stairs—Physicians Baffled by Condition

The venerable J. H. Campbell, residing west of this city, lies at his home in a critical condition as the result of a fall down his cellar stairs Sunday noon. Mr. Campbell, who is 86 years of age, started down the stairs at his home and in some manner lost his balance, falling to the floor of the basement.

When members of the family came to his assistance, they found him in an unconscious condition, and up to final reports last night, he had not regained consciousness. Physicians were called immediately, but have thus far been unable to determine the full extent of Mr. Campbell's injuries, which are believed to be internal.

Outward injuries were in the form of severe bruises, which occur on almost every part of his body and head. Mr. Campbell is a well known farmer in Morgan county, and has resided for many years west of this city.

Mrs. Edward Hoffman is ill at her home, 868 North Prairie street.

Mrs. Nick Mastopietro of North Fayette street is ill at her home.

FORUM FAVORS WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENT

Three Hundred Citizens Recommended Issue of Bonds to Make Needed Changes—New Force Main and Elevated Tank Badly Needed, Say Officials.

Three hundred citizens gathered last night for a forum on the waterworks question at the Chamber of Commerce, passed a resolution recommending to the city council that it put up to the voters the matter of issuing at least $90,000 worth of bonds for needed improvements in the city water system. The question was thoroughly discussed by Mayor E. E. Crabtree and was given ample consideration from the floor by several of those present. Questions of all sorts, many of them of a technical nature, were asked, and with the aid of the plant superintendent Mr. Swanson and L. H. Caldwell, who made the survey of the needs if the system the citizens were given a thorough explanation of the entire matter. The discussion was interspersed with readings and musical selections by students from Illinois Woman's college. Miss Audrey played a violin solo, and vocal selections were given by Miss Hilma Franz. Attendance prizes were won by Miss Edith Hall and Dr. E. D. Canatsey. The chamber of commerce auditorium has been handsomely decorated in Christmas colors, and a stage was erected at the front of the room for the convenience of the speakers and entertainers. Forum President J. H. Dial presided.

It is estimated that $84,500 will be required to make improvements listed under five heads. The present bonding ability of the city is a little over $49,000, and the issue for the full amount, if voted, would be in the form of an enabling act, which would give the city the right to sell bonds up to the limit, and as past bond issues fall due and are paid, to issue further bonds according to the additional ability thus conferred. This would also make it possible to make the improvements in the order of their importance and provide the money for same as needed. The following items were given as needs of the system:

Five thousand four hundred feet of new water main, to cost $30,500. This would be laid on Goltra or Clay avenue, and if on the former would serve also as a service pipe to the Bazar, State Street church, continued today 10 to 12 noon. Many attractive articles. Bad weather kept people away yesterday. Your opportunity today.

sidents along that street. The new main would replace portions of the feed line from the pumping plant into the city, which is worn to the breaking point in several places. It would also provide a larger force main for a longer distance from the pumping plant than at present. The erection of an elevated tank with a capacity of 500,000 gallons, at a cost of $30,000. This is necessary to prove additional pressure in the mains, especially in the west end of the city. The higher this tank could be elevated, the greater the pressure, so that the logical place for it would be on the hill in the west end. This would give ample protection from fire and do away with the necessity for relying on the old reservoir, which is leaky and costs the city more than it is worth, to keep filled with water.

One turbine-driven high lift pump, with a capacity of one third of a million gallons, at a cost of $7,000.

One chain-grate stoker under the present boiler at the pumping plant, at a cost of $3,000.

One turbo generator at a cost of $4,000. It is possible that at least two of these items may be dispensed with for sometime, but the new force main and the elevated tank are considered vitally necessary.

K. C. BASKET SHOOTERS WILL MEET CHAPIN

The K. C. basketball team will open their winter season Friday night in Liberty Hall at 8 o'clock against the Chapin Indians. The Casseys who have been practicing for the past three weeks, are composed principally of young players who have all had some previous experience, and it is rumored that they are already rounding into very good shape. A winter schedule is being arranged and will be announced later. The personnel of the squad as announced is as follows: Donald Palasky, Harold Conney, Ray Zell, Paul Devlin, Harvey Dowling, Kenneth Norris, Cecil Doyle, Edward Blesse, and William Hayden.

GRACE CHURCH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

The first quarterly conference of Grace M. E. church was held Monday night with a good number of officials of the church in attendance, and the regular routine business of the church transacted at this time. The meeting was held by the Rev. A. S. Chapman, superintendent of the Jacksonville district. At the close of the meeting, Rev. Chapman left for Chicago in response to a summons from the Rev. Thomas Nicholson, bishop of the Chicago area. The meeting has been called for considerable of the best plans for the various districts in the interest of the new "World Service" program of the church.

TEACHER AT ROUTT 19 YEARS DIES TUESDAY

Sister Evangelist Sexton, Well Beloved by Many Pupils Here, Dies at Springfield.

Sister Evangelist Sexton of the Dominican Order died yesterday morning at the Motherhouse of the Order in Springfield. The Sister will be mourned by many friends and former pupils in Jacksonville. For the past nineteen years she was in charge of the mathematics department at Routt college, being forced to retire from active duty only last year. In spite of precarious health and a very severe operation she continued her work in the school where her unassuming ways and genial personality made her many friends.

Sister Evangelist was counted as a person of very unusual intellectual attainments and her death will be a severe loss to her order. After her graduation and religious profession she did advanced work in the Catholic University and at Columbia. From that period, practically her entire teaching life was spent at Routt.

The funeral will take place at the convent in Springfield on Thursday morning at ten o'clock. The solemn Requiem Mass will be sung by the boys choir of the Church of Our Savior under the direction of Miss Ring. In the absence of Monsignor Hickey, who is incapacitated, the funeral service will be in charge of the Very Reverend Dean Formax of Jacksonville. It is expected that the entire student body of Routt College and the parochial school will be present at the funeral services and special cars have been chartered on the C. & A. morning train, leaving at 6:15 Thursday.

SEWING CLASS MET IN WOODSON RECENTLY

Members of Miss Jane Irlam's sewing class of Woodson entertained their mothers at a social given recently at Miss Irlam's home. After a brief musical program there were various entertainment features. A grab-bag afforded much amusement, and contained a number of articles made by the class members.

The following prizes were awarded:

Hand Sewing—First Miss Inez Sheppard; second, Miss Mabel Winters.

Button hole—First, Miss Dorothy Taylor; second Inez Sheppard. Other members of the class are Iva Winters, Helen Rea.

It is a source of regret to the girls and their teacher that the term of 16 lessons has expired and all are looking forward to another term next spring. At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by Emly Adams, Inez Sheppard, Hlene Hudson and Mattie Irlam.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Morgan County Women Will Attend Gathering in Chicago.

Jacksonville and Morgan county women are being urged to attend the Rally of Democratic Women of the state to be held in the Tiger Room of the Hotel Sherman at Chicago, Dec. 6-7. The conference will open with a Democratic Central committee meeting at 10 A. M., Dec. 6. Mrs. Henry W. English of this city, district chairman of the Democratic Women of the Twentieth Congressional district, is a speaker on the morning program on the subject "The Rising Tide of Government or Federal Rule," and also at the first of the Rally Sessions which open at 2:30 P. M., Dec. 6, when she will speak on "100 percent Organization—How Accomplished." Mrs. English has the distinction of being the only woman district chairman of the Democratic women of the state of Illinois who had an organization of women in every precinct of her district.

Both Mrs. English and Mrs. Alex Platt, county chairman of women Democrats are endeavoring to have a splendid representation of Morgan County women at the rally in Chicago. Several are considering the trip, who have not fully matured their plans. The big session will be the banquet at 6:30 December 6, to be held in Tiger room of the hotel, at which time there will be a number of notable speakers, among them being Mayor William E. Dever, Chicago; Mrs. W. H. Hart of Benton; Hon. Thomas F. Donovan, State Democratic Chairman; Mrs. Anna L. Smith, Dr. Rowena Morse Mann. Among the speakers of the day will be Mrs. E. W. Bemis, County Commissioner, Miss Margaret Shaffer, Mrs. Henry W. English, Mrs. Samuel Slade, Mrs. J. H. Hanley, Mrs. Charles Pickett, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. Julia Vrooman, Miss Mary McEnery, Miss Mary E. Ahern, Miss Katherine O'Loughlin and Miss Jane Addams of Hull House.

The women of the state will be very much benefited by hearing such a splendid program arranged through the efforts of Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. Sam Slade, Mrs. Anna L. Smith and Mrs. A. E. Orgland, State Democratic Chairman of Galva, Ill. The two sessions December 7 will be held at 9:30 A. M., and 2:30 P. M. In addition to the speakers named there will be Twenty-five Congressional committee women and fifty Chicago ward committee women will participate in the rally program.

Reservations for the banquet on the evening of Dec. 6 should be mailed at once to Miss Pearl M. Hart, Room 1625, 127 North Dearborn street, Chicago. The banquet tickets are $2.50 and reservations should be made by check. Reservations will be made in the order the checks arrive.

HI Y MEMBERS HEAR CONFERENCE REPORTS

A Number of Those Who Attended Galesburg Meeting Speak to Club—Rogers Tells of Possible "Y" Building

Reports from the Older Boys' Conference at Galesburg last week were given at the regular meeting of the Hi Y club last night at Centenary church. The forty boys who attended the meeting were served with a chicken pie supper by the ladies of the church, who served apple pie a la mode for dessert. Needless to say, rousing cheers were given for the ladies. H. J. Rodgers, president of the Y. M. C. A. executive board, and Rev. C. D. Robertson who were present, also came in for applause.

In the early part of the meeting the slaperitis was effectively administered to six members of the club who had committed various offenses. A perforated paddle was used as the instrument of discipline.

A number of the boys who attended the conference then made brief and interesting reports. Those who spoke were Charles Williamson, Paul Busey, Robert Bennett, Merle Martin, George Metcalf, Raymond Reynolds and Louis Gard. They told of some of the addresses made at the conference and gave some interesting statistics on the amount spent for luxuries.

H. J. Rodgers made the boys a talk on the possibilities for a new Y. M. C. A. building here, stating that some day when the funds could be secured it was the intention to erect a suitable building on the "Y" lot west of Grace church.

ANOTHER GAS WELL HAS BEEN BROUGHT IN

W. D. Cody and Associates Bring in Well No. 2 on O. F. Conklin Farm Northeast of City—Is of 5,000,000 Size.

Another well has been brought in in the gas field northeast of Jacksonville. This is well No. 2 on the O. F. Conklin farm and was brought in by W. D. Cody, who has as his associate Albert Barnett of Chanute, Kansas.

The well at a depth of 348 feet is in 14 feet of gas sand and the well is estimated as of 5,000,000 size. It was the intention of Mr. Cody to go to greater depth in the gas sand but a flow of oil made it advisable to stop drilling.

Clarence Velts is the owner of the drilling rig and it was his advice not to send the drill to greater depth for fear that the flow of oil might spoil the hole as a gas well.

Recent weather has been very unfavorable for drilling and operations on the Cody leases will be probably suspended until after the holidays. Mr. Barnett, who is an experienced oil and gas man, is very enthusiastic about the showing made in the Morgan county field. He has already returned to his home in Kansas but expects to come back to Morgan county in the course of a few weeks.

P. C. Irwin's rig is now located on the Trotter farm about three-fourths of a mile west of the Andrew Harris residence. It is expected to bring in a well there in days, also the location is considered as at the edge of the gas area.

INCOME TAX BLANKS WILL BE SIMPLE

Income tax forms for taxpayers having an income of $5,000 or less derived chiefly from salaries and wages will be much simpler this year.

The new form will consist of only a single sheet, one side of which will be devoted to the brief statement of income and deduction, and the other side will set forth instructions for making the return. Formerly taxpayers in this class had to state their income on a return that consisted of six pages, on which questions appeared pertaining not only to salaries and wages, but to income from business, sale of real estate, etc.

The change will favorably affect more than a million taxpayers, or approximately 70 percent of those who annually are required to file individual income tax returns.

LEAVE TO ATTEND WASHINGTON MEETING

Beardstown will be well represented at the annual meeting of the National Rivers and Harbors congress which convenes in Washington, D. C., today and Thursday.

R. H. Garm, F. M. Condit, Atty. W. H. Dieterich and D. B. Carruthers, are in attendance. The first three named are Illinois delegates having been so commissioned by Gov. Len Small.

The importance of waterway legislation, and the acute interest in the proposed Lakes to Gulf deep waterway at this time, led the local men to attend the Congress to foster Beardstown and Illinois river valley interests. (Illinoian Star.)

I. W. C. STUDENTS HEAR FINE ADDRESS

The purpose of the woman's college is to make strong womanhood. This was the substance of a chapel hour address given by Rev. H. B. Lewis of Grace M. In a way which carried conviction Mr. Lewis stressed the thought of the all-around development which should come thru college life, showing that education which does not carry along with it soul development is not the right kind.

BOARD MEETS.

The board of the Old People's Home held a regular meeting last night at the Home. This was a business session and various matters of routine nature were given attention by the board members.

"CAT AND CANARY" IS GREAT MYSTERY PLAY

A play described by all who have seen it as hugely entertaining is "The Cat and Canary" by John Willard. This drama is now on tour and is announced by Kilbourn Gordon, Inc., for presentation at the Grand tomorrow night. The popularity of "The Cat and the Canary" gained it two successful seasons in New York and long runs in Chicago, London and Philadelphia.

"The Cat and the Canary" is a drama in three acts. The story concerns an eccentric bachelor who leaves a will requiring that his heirs shall meet to hear it read at midnight on the twentieth anniversary of his death. The appointed place is the library of the house where he died. In the interim the sole occupant of the house has been a superstitious West Indian negress. References to a strain of insanity in the family, to spirit messages, seeking a medium, to a valuable lost necklace, to a homicidal maniac at large in the neighborhood, all help to create a sense of impending events of dire import. When, in the first act, a pair of ghostly hands snatch the matter-of-fact lawyer out of the scene, the play of thrills is fully under way.

CHILDREN'S RUBBERS

Sizes 5 to 12 Only 25c J. C. PENNEY CO., INC. 221-223 West State St.

But the author has provided the necessary reaction to all this mystery in natural comedy which quickly follows each thrill and makes "The Cat and the Canary" an entertaining play of exceptional worth. The production is complete in every detail for all the settings and effects are exactly reproduced from those in use in New York.

"THE COVERED WAGON"

"The Covered Wagon," Emerson Hough's story of the great adventure of the Western pioneers in 1849, begins at the Grand Dec. 13th for three days. For those who like thrilling shows, "The Covered Wagon" is very satisfying. The wile Mazepa-like horsemanship, "skull-and-knuckle" combat, buffalo hunt, redskin attack, William Tell gun play and swimming of whole caravans across deep water keep interest at a high pitch. Behind the episodes two great continuities serve to interest the spectator: the ever-moving epic conquest of the West and the struggle for the lovely Molly Wingate's heart and hand by two rival fighters of the Mexican war, Ernest Torrence, Tully Marshall, Johnny Fox, Guy Oliver, Lois Wilson, J. Warren Kerrigan and the others have established themselves as Boston favorites. Showings are given twice daily.

There are several methods of raising funds for the support of a Community Band, among which the most important are popular subscription, city contracts, city appropriation and Chamber of Commerce donations. Probably the most widely used and successful method is the popular subscription way. Business men approach to support such a venture must be thoroughly convinced that they are to receive an economic benefit from such an organization, as well as merely the satisfaction of having publicly supported music.

The Monmouth Chamber of Commerce, during the winter of 1922, was instrumental in the organization of a band of 85 pieces of young musicians. A total of $1,200 was raised by popular subscription and used to provide uniforms, instruments and other equipment. Band rehearsals started in the early part of January and by the first of June a repertoire of several pieces for concert work was available. During the summer this band accompanied the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce in its trips and gave concerts every Thursday evening.

The Bloomington Chamber of Commerce states that the Community Band proposition there has been greatly hindered by the presence of other bands. The recent organization of the Bloomington Consistory Band, the High School Band, Wesleyan University Band, Ward School Bands, American Legion Band and Orphans Home Band has made it almost impossible to form a community organization. The Bloomington Public Band is supported solely by its own earnings, with the exception of the city contracts for concerts at the rate of $125 per contract.

Springfield has demonstrated a good method of bringing about cooperation in the organization of a civic orchestra. It consists of the formation of an association of five hundred members whose duty it is to foster and support the orchestra. Although this is not a community band, it is altogether reasonable that a band be supported on a similar basis.

The Danville Chamber of Commerce had an entirely different experience in the organization of a band in that city. The trouble lay in the lack of cooperation on the part of the bandsmen and the underwriters, due to too stringent demands of the former.

Jacksonville is an example of a decided success along the lines of a Community Band. In that city, the Chamber of Commerce secured funds by popular subscription for the purchase of uniforms and a library. The Band was organized early this Spring, with J. Bart Johnson, well known musician and band leader, as director. The director donates his services to

Welch Surveys Ways of Community Band Finance

The article below appears in the current issue of the "Illinois Journal of Commerce" and was written by Harold C. Welch, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Welch recently undertook a survey of the financing of community bands in Illinois. The editor of the publication in which the article appears has this to say: "Jacksonville has proved what a fine thing a community band may be, and Mr. Welch has prepared the survey. Organizing and financing community bands is a legitimate field for Chambers of Commerce, but the task is not always an easy one."

Probably the first thing that enters a business man's mind when he is approached in regard to supporting a Community Band is, "Will it be a success?" The only logical answer to such a query is, "Yes, it will be a success if it is handled in a proper manner."

The proper organization and management of a Community Band is unquestionably a ticklish job. There are dozens of problems to be dealt with, among which the most important is co-operation. Absolute co-operation of both the bandsmen and their supporters is essential if the band is to continue more than a single short season. Probably the greatest danger in obtaining and holding this co-operation is the securing of funds.

A unique and encouraging feature of the Jacksonville Band is the fact that it is a band belonging not to the city proper, but to the entire community. Musicians are recruited for miles around, from distances ranging from a few blocks to 20 miles. These join wholeheartedly in making the organization a success.

At the present time their uniforms consist of merely the unadorned white outfits, but the committee hopes to secure the regulation uniform before the winter season.

Hoopston is one of the leaders in the Community Band project and has one of the most popular bands of the type in the State, as far as community interest and support is concerned. The Hoopston Band is supported by popular subscription taken by the Chamber of Commerce from the business people almost entirely.

The activities of the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of J. N. Sletten, are very prominent in the Community Band field. The report of Mr. Sletten follows:

"The Kankakee Chamber of Commerce is fostering the Kankakee Municipal Band, which we were instrumental in organizing a real, honest-to-goodness municipal band of 28 pieces under the leadership of a professional band leader. Regular union prices prevail when organizations wish to use the band. The uniforms cost $1,200 and were purchased by the Chamber of Commerce. We financed the payment of them independent of any activities other than those given by the band. We then appeared before the city council and got them to appropriate $1,000 for the hire of the band for weekly concerts in the parks."

Urbana is the proud possessor of a successful Community Band, fostered by the Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of Secretary L. M. Rowlett. This band is supported by the business men, and the bandsmen play with no remuneration. Their services are donated "in order to forward a better community spirit and fraternal feelings of the people," as stated in the report of the committee.

Chicago has one of the most unique community bands in the country. It is supported by popular subscription. William Well is the conductor of the Chicago band and it is composed of 41 pieces. The subscriptions total an average of $50,000 a year. Programs are given in the summer in the public parks and playgrounds, at bathing beaches and on corner lots and in the winter the band plays in school auditoriums and other public places.

Clinton has two community bands. One is known as the Clinton Band, or the Senior Band, an organization that has been in existence for several years and supported by voluntary contribution. This band gives a free concert each week during the summer, and consists of 25 pieces. The Clinton Junior Band of 50 pieces is made up of boys from the ages of 12 to 18, and is supported by the community.

DeKalb has always had a fine band. Last year it was financed by popular subscription and by the proceeds of a bazaar, all sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. This year the band has been supported by popular subscription.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's relief from the terrors of constipation!

Never make light of constipation or any one of its symptoms—there is no telling what disease you may be heading into! The one thing to do—IMMEDIATELY—is to fight constipation to the last ditch! Not with pills or cathartics; they cannot give you lasting relief! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-bulk to do the work! What you need, what will give you permanent relief is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's is scientifically prepared to relieve constipation. It will relieve the chronic case or the mild case. You need it, your family needs it!

But, you must eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—each day! At least two tablespoonsful; in chronic cases this amount with each meal! And, eating Kellogg's Bran is a delight rather than a hardship. It has a delicious, appealing nut-like flavor that wins the most fastidious appetite. Every day when you eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on your favorite hot or cold cereal or cooked or mixed with hot cereals, think of the health every spoonful contains for you! Think how Kellogg's Bran is sweeping and cleansing the alimentary tract; how it is driving out the toxic poisons and freeing your system from dangers of dreaded diseases! Let your physician recommend it.

Kellogg's Bran is extra-delicious made into countless bakery batches. Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran; it is also obtainable at first-class hotels and clubs in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant.

ILLINI BASEBALL TEAM WILL TAKE SOUTHERN TRIP

Eight Games Will Be Played During the Easter Vacation

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 4.—Coach Carl Lundgren will take his University of Illinois baseball squad on its annual southern training trip the week of the Easter recess, April 12 to 19. The trip was approved by the council of administration at its meeting today. Dates of games will be fixed at a meeting of southern coaches and athletic directors this coming week-end.

Coach Lundgren expects to play Tulane University, Mississippi A. & M. College and the state universities of Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama. Mississippi is the

NOTRE DAME PERFECT GRID MACHINE

So Said Eastern Football Experts, but Coach Rockne Takes Exception—Says Team Lacked Weight

BY BILLY EVANS

Knute Rockne, famous coach of the well-known Notre Dame football team, is a close student of the game, a keen analyst. Rockne watches a game in a cold, calculating manner, deciphering the trick plays of the opposition and picks out the flaws in the work of his team. In between halves, the famous Mr. Rockne, to use the slang of it, says a mouthful to his players.

Rockne is not the type that lets himself be carried away with success, neither does he permit hero worship to affect the mental attitude of his players. With Rockne there is a reason for everything.

After Notre Dame had defeated the Army's great team and trounced Princeton by a lopsided score on successive Saturdays, a number of the leading eastern football critics referred to Rockne's team as a perfect football machine.

Just before the start of the game with Carnegie Tech I was discussing with Rockne great teams and players. Not having seen Notre Dame in action prior to the Carnegie Tech game, I called his attention to the fact that eastern critics had labeled Notre Dame the perfect football machine.

"Then your team has a fault?" I ventured. Rockne smiled. "Yes, my team has several faults, but the outstanding one, the one that keeps my team from coming up to the specifications of the eastern experts is lack of weight."

"Ten to 15 pounds more to each man on the line and we would come much closer to making good the nice things said about us in the east."

Lack of Weight

"This lack of weight asserted itself in the game with Nebraska. When two lines are of equal ability, the value of the extra poundage asserts itself. There was little to choose between the Nebraska and Notre Dame line as to ability. The weight of the Nebraska line over that of my players was the deciding issue."

"The Notre Dame team of this year comes up to the specifications of a truly great team in every respect, except a lack of weight in the line. It has no outstanding star like George Gipp, but contains any number of great players of nearly equal ability. It has spirit, the old fight. It has team play. It has a fine field general in Quarterback Stuhldreher. But it lacks weight. The forward line is a trifle light to come up to the specifications of a perfect football machine as I see it."

SECTIONAL UPSETS

So far this season each section of the country had had its football surprise party. When Nevada played California to a tie game it was the cause for much gossip on the coast and elsewhere. Nebraska's defeat of Notre Dame was the big upset of the year in the west. Cornell's overwhelming defeat of Dartmouth gave the east its big thrill, while the south gasped when Pennsylvania walloped Centre in a lopsided game.

GREAT PINCH HITTER

Only a bad ankle keeps Earl Sheely of the Chicago White Sox from being one of the most-talked about first-sackers in the history of the game. Eddie Collins says he is one of the greatest first-basemen he ever played with or against. Some compliment since so great a player as Stuffy McInnis was once a side kick of Eddie's. Aside from being a great fielder, Sheely is noted for his ability to hit in a pinch.

Earl Anderson of Elkhart, Ind., is quarterback, Harold Anderson of Robinson, Ill., is guard, Ross Anderson of Fairbury, Ill., is end, Lyle Anderson of St. Paul, Minn., is tackle and Carl Anderson of Sibley, Ill., is manager of the team.

NINETEEN FOOTBALL PLAYERS SERIOUSLY INJURED THIS FALL

Fractured Skulls and Injured Backs are Most Numerous

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Nineteen football players were fatally injured during the 1923 season, according to figures compiled tonight by the Chicago Tribune. Of this number, there were nine high school players and five each from colleges and Universities who were fatally hurt.

The first casualty came on October 2 when Buel Crawford of the Western State College of Salida, Colo., died from blood-poisoning as the result of a broken leg. Fractured skulls and injured backs caused a majority of the deaths.

One player died of strangulation. He was chewing tobacco and strangled when he was tackled, dying on the field. Two players were killed in Chicago.

NATS NEED CATCHERS

If Eddie Garrity is really sincere in his threat to jump the big show for the Western Industrial League, that is paying fancy salaries, Washington must get another catcher. With Garrity gone, Muddy Ruel is the catching staff, and he can't do all the work although he likes nothing better than catching every day.

NOT MUCH HOPE FOR ILLINI-NAVY GAME

Illinois Athletic Officials Not Able to Agree on Dates—May Meet Nebraska in Opening Game.

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 4.(AP)—Hope of an Illinois-Navy football game in 1924 was practically abandoned today by University of Illinois athletic officials on receipt of a telegram from Annapolis declining to meet the Illini on either October 4 or 25 or Nov. 15. Coach Bob Zuppke is unwilling to schedule a game on October 11, the date offered by the Navy, because it would mean a long train trip the week before the Michigan game, Illinois' hardest assignment next fall.

Purdue also declined a game with Illini during the day and as Northwestern had previously refused to play Coach Zuppke's team a date with Indiana is the only hope of rounding the Illinois schedule out to five conference dates.

Negotiations also have been opened with Nebraska for a game to open the season, Oct. 4. Illinois already has a game scheduled with Butler for this date, but as the Indianapolis College has not a full schedule yet it would probably be possible to shift the date a week later.

The Lonsdale belt has been won by Battling Brown of London and it will not be necessary for him to buy a new set of suspenders this year.

A Cleveland pedestrian was knocked down and run over three times by an automobile, establishing what is believed to be a new A. A. U. record for the event.

Among those who will not pick an All-America eleven this year is Nick Altrock, who prefers to confine his humor to the ball field.

Considering the number of people who are always telling the cock-eyed world something, Ben Turpin ought to be a well-informed gent.

Our objection to the announced fight between McTigue and Beckett in Dublin is that neither is likely to be shot by an Irish revolutionist.

Twenty-one nations will compete for the Davis cup next summer, which means that it will take Bill Tilden a day or so longer than usual to win the singles championship.

FINDS GOING ROUGH

Glenn Warner, who for years has been turning out great teams at University of Pittsburgh, is finding the going very rough in his final year at that institution. Warner is to take charge of football at Leland Stanford next season, is doing anything but closing his eastern gridiron career in a blaze of glory.

William Pennell of Springfield is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

BREAKS IN FOOTBALL

When two evenly matched teams meet in any line of sport, the breaks of the game invariably decide the issue. This fact is proved out every year in the world series and has held up in the big football games of the present season. A fumbled ball, a bad kick or a poor bit of judgment has decided many a game this fall after the two teams had played each other to a standstill and a tie game seemed certain.

BUSINESS REDUCED
BY CONGRESS NEWS

DURBIN

Mrs. Margaret Walton, of Kansas City, is a guest of her cousin, William Davies.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLamar entertained a number of friends and relatives on Thanksgiving day.

Seethaven, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Scott, was the gathering place for the Scott family on Thanksgiving day and the feast was also a celebration of the 20th wedding anniversary of the host and hostess.

Messrs. Holly Ludwig, David Fowler, Harold McCray and Herman McCray, of Danville, spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Darley.

The W. F. M. S. will meet with Mrs. Richard Oxley on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, with Mrs. Charles Gibson as assistant hostess.

Messrs. John Ebrey, William Douglas, Morgan Ryan and Richard Whalen were Chicago visitors the past week.

Sister Mary's Kitchen
BY SISTER MARY

Every hostess feels her reputation is more or less marred or made by the character of coffee she serves her guests. The everyday brew for the family is quite as important.

There is no luck or magic about good coffee. However, there are one or two facts worth keeping in mind.

A blend of Mocha and Java coffee, in the proportion of two parts of Java to one of Mocha gives a fine sparkling beverage suited to the average taste.

Buy coffee in small quantities unless you grind it yourself. After coffee is ground it loses its strength unless kept in airtight containers.

Many brands of coffee nowadays are "steel-cut." This means coffee ground medium. It is used for boiled coffee. If percolated coffee is preferred the coffee should be ground fine. For filtered coffee the berry should be pulverized.

Accurate measurements are as essential for coffee as for cake. While the amount of coffee needed to a cup of water varies somewhat according to the brand, this is gauged easily and after the first pot of coffee is made and the measurements can be reconstructed to suit.

Old fashioned boiled coffee is always popular and, if carefully made, as wholesome as any kind.

Boiled Coffee

Four tablespoons medium ground coffee, 1-2 cup cold water, 3 eggshells or 1-2 egg and shell, 1-2 cups boiling water.

Mix eggshells with half the cold water. The shells are crushed finely. Mix with coffee, and put into scalded coffee pot. Add boiling water and stir thoroughly. Put over fire and boil five minutes. Pour remaining one-quarter cup of cold water into pot through the spout and let stand three minutes where it will keep hot but not boil.

This rule will make four cups of coffee as a cup of coffee does not equal the standard measuring cup. Enough white of egg sticks to three eggshells to clear this amount of coffee when eggs are high.

If a large amount of boiled coffee is needed a whole egg is required.

After-Dinner Coffee

One-half cup coffee, 1-2 cup cold water, 1-2 egg and shell, 1-2 cups boiling water.

Make the coffee as in preceding rule and serve without cream.

To obtain the "half egg," beat egg slightly before measuring and add half the crushed shell. The remaining half should be tightly covered and placed in a cold place or on ice until the next day.

Filtered Coffee

One-half cup pulverized coffee, 3 1-2 cups boiling water.

Put coffee in filter bag or strainer and slowly add boiling water. To do this, fill the coffee container with water, cover and let stand until water drips through coffee into the pot. If a stronger coffee is desired pour the filtered coffee over the grounds the second time. Filtered coffee lacks the sparkle of boiled coffee and has a different taste.

Percolated Coffee

Percolated coffee requires 20 to 30 minutes of "perking" to make a good cup of coffee. The boiling water that comes through the tube is small in quantity and it must come and fall over the grounds many times. A finely ground coffee makes better percolated coffee than a coarse or medium ground coffee.

Cafe au Lait

One-half cup hot milk, 1-2 cup freshly made coffee.

This is served for breakfast and is really a nourishing drink. Percolated, boiled or filtered coffee of ordinary strength is used.

"Vienna coffee," so often served at afternoon affairs, is extra strong coffee served with whipped cream. The coffee is not as strong as "after-dinner" coffee, but is stronger than ordinary breakfast coffee. Instead of doubling the amount of coffee as in after-dinner, use "half as much again."

Nature

Lizards, living in dark caves for thousands of years, became blind. Their eyes shrank and disappeared under the skin. Dr. Paul Kammerer, Austrian biologist, exposed several generations of these blind lizards to red light. Gradually they "grew" eyes and could see.

Nature eventually adapts all forms of life to their environments. She changes them, giving new organs and shapes as needed and taking away what isn't needed. This is a natural law, and locked up in this law is the reason people have troubles and joys. Everything has a definite purpose. Nothing is futile in our universe.

Mirth

Aged Kentucky woman died, leaving these sealed instructions: "I wish my funeral to be from my home. A cheap coffin and a plain gown. Let all who come to my funeral be merry, for I loved mirth when alive and I wish mirth when dead."

Do you believe in a life after death and that the departed one is going on to better and happier things? If so, death should involve no more grief than bidding farewell to a loved one departing on a joyous journey.

Speed

It's only 21 years since Augustines drove an auto at the phenomenal speed of 78 miles an hour. Airplane now travels nearly 300 miles an hour, or almost four times as fast as Augustines' auto in 1902. It is not unreasonable to suppose that speed will increase to 1000 miles an hour by 1950 or before.

The conquest of distance and time is the most outstanding accomplishment of our generation.

Lipsticks

Chemists have been busy and a New York firm begins marketing lip-sticks flavored cherry, peach, pomegranate and strawberry. This will make the kiss test less like tallok—for which blessing the inventors certainly should get one of the Nobel prizes.

Tab

Suing for divorce, a Brooklyn woman says the trouble started when her husband began insisting that she keep books on every penny she spent. At the end of the month, she says—pa raised the roof if she couldn't account for every nickel and dime.

Now that women have the vote, they should turn to another Equal Right—the right to have a definite and liberal "allowance" without being compelled to make an accounting. Few women get a square deal in the division of the pocketbook.
